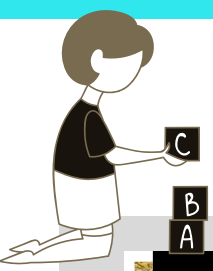
17 WAYS TO GET MULTIPLE REPETITIONS



According to a systematic review of 5 research articles, the available evidence suggests that "...high-frequency (Allen, 2013) individual sessions with a dose of at least 50, but preferably 70 or more, trials per session (Williams, 2012) may be most effective in treating this population (aka children with speech sound disorders)" (Roepke, E., Greenwell, T., et al., 2019). Try using the following activities to elicit multiple repetitions of a target sound. Have fun!

1

Say and Click

2

Say and Slide

3

Say and Do Yoga

4

Say and Stick

5

Say and Sort

6

Say and Squeeze

7

Say and Squish

8

Say and Peek

9

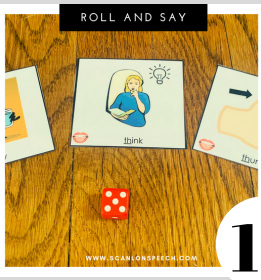
Say and Stack

10

Say and Build

11

Say and Fill



12

Roll and Say

13

Roll away and Say

14

Say and Play

15

Say and Swat

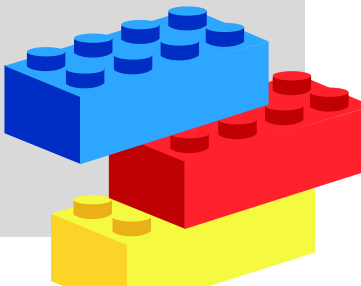
16

Search and Say

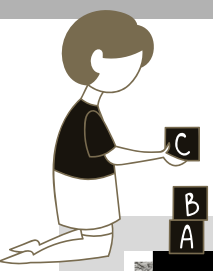
17

Say and Make a Pattern

HAVE FUN!



17 WAYS TO GET MULTIPLE REPETITIONS



According to a systematic review of 5 research articles, the available evidence suggests that "...high-frequency (Allen, 2013) individual sessions with a dose of at least 50, but preferably 70 or more, trials per session (Williams, 2012) may be most effective in treating this population (aka children with speech sound disorders)" (Roepke, E., Greenwell, T., et al., 2019).Try using the following activities to elicit multiple repetitions of a target sound. Have fun!

Say and Click

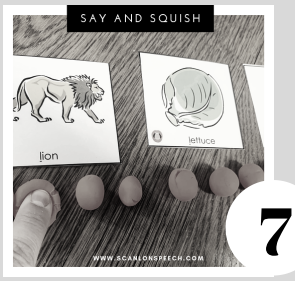
Say and Slide

Say and Do Yoga

Say and Stick

Say and Sort

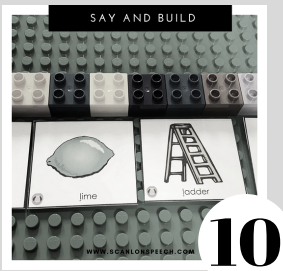
Say and Squeeze



Say and Squish

Say and Peek

Say and Stack



Say and Build

Say and Fill

Roll and Say

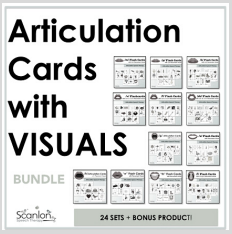
Roll away and Say

Say and Play

Say and Swat

Search and Say

Say and Make a Pattern



HAVE FUN!

Scanlon Speech Therapy

www.scanlonspeech.com